

WUN Workshop, 15/16 October 2015
Multilingualism and Mobilities
Understanding Globalization
Two projects – one workshop

Thursday, 15 October

10.00-11.30	North-South Dialogue, Part I Chair: Kristine Horner Part 1: Papers and positions <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Ana Deumert, Whose voice? Positionality in the development of southern theory 2. Stephen May, What does superdiversity add to multilingualism 3. Chris Stroud, Multilingualism as an utopian project
11.30-12.00	Tea
12.00-13.00	Part 2: Discussion Discussant: Mike Baynham
13.00-14.00	Lunch
14.00-15.30	New Chinese Migrations Chair: Alfonso del Percio <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Katherine Chen: Language and identity in two mobile communities in Hong Kong 2. Huamei Han: Understanding and problematizing the “Chinese as the new colonizer” discourse in northern Namibia: A modest proposal for an applied linguistics emancipating perspectives of and from the global South 3. Round table: Chinese migrations, emerging research agendas [Chen, Deumert, Han, Vigouroux, Gu & Guo, Stroud] 	‘Marginal Languages’ from Past to Present Chair: Adriana Patiño-Santos <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Nils Langer: Regional languages as cultural heritage: Efforts to promote and protect Low German and Frisian in the nineteenth century 2. Antonia Rubino: Linguistic repertoires and multilingualism of the Italians in Australia 3. Kristine Horner & John Bellamy: Discourses on multilingualism, migration and endangerment: Luxembourgish in globalising context

15.30-16.00	Tea
16.00-17.30	North South Dialogue Continued (I) Chair: Cecile Vigouroux 1. Anne Storch and Chris Bongartz: Making sense of the noisy 2. Amiena Peck: Bleached skinscapes: skin lightening vs. Southern enlightenment 3. Quentin Williams: Mainstreaming a marginal accent and gender identity: the case of 'Kimmie Kool'	Language, Identity and Belonging Chair: Audrey Small 1. Grace Guo: Migrant minorities' identity construction through multilingual learning and use in China 2. Michelle Gu: Negotiating identity and heritage: Ethnic minority youths in Hong Kong 3. Mi Yung Park: Globalization, locality, and language attitudes: The case of Southeast Asian migrant brides in Korea
18.00	Dinner at the Wild Fig

Friday, 16 October

9.30-10.30	Margins and Peripheries Chair: David Karlander 1. Leonie Cornips: Constructing local identities in the periphery through language practices 2. Jolien Clijsen: The experience of belonging through language practices 3. Yolandi Klein, Placed on the side-line: maintaining and contesting local 'inkommers' peripheries in an endocentric 'boorling 'place	Space, Place and Heritage Chair: Darren Paffey 1. Louisa Buckingham: Lifestyle seekers or labourers: migrant positioning as reflected in the LL of Costa Rica's Central Valley 2. Mark Payne: Ethno-linguistic landscaping in Page Hall 3. Mike Baynham: Heritage of no fixed abode: space, place and precarity in the early stages of migration
10.30-11.00	Tea

11.00-12.30	Language and the Political Economy Chair: Chris Bongartz 1. Alfonso Del Percio: Training Entrepreneurs: Language, Migration and the Political Economy of Labor 2. Michelle October : Labour, language and economics in the South African farming industry 3. Roundtable: Quo vadis? Language and the political economy (Del Percio, Deumert, Cornips, Karlander, October, Storch, Stroud, Vigouroux)	Multilingualism and Urban Space/s Chair: Jennifer Dailey-O'Cain 1. Patrick Stevenson: Berliner Mietshaus: A sociolinguistic novella in 5 storeys 2. Adriana Patiño-Santos: Narratives of Urban regeneration and Displacement: The Spanish-speaking Latin Americans of Elephant & Castle 3. Roundtable: methodological challenges (Baynham, Dailey-O'Cain, Horner, Patiño-Santos, Stevenson)
12.30-13.30	Lunch
13.30-14.30	'Marginal languages' and Globalization Chair: Anne Storch 1. David Karlander: Register and artefact: enregistering authenticity in an engagement with Övdalsk descriptivist texts 2. Justin Brown: Acting locally, thinking globally - international 'First Nation' discourses in 'Khoisan' language and cultural activism	Multilingualism and Mobility Meeting to draft proposal for volume and future planning: Kris Horner (Sheffield), Jennifer Dailey-O'Cain (Alberta) et al.
14.30-15.00	Tea
15.00-17.30	North-South Dialogue Continued (II) Chair: Ana Deumert Migration trajectories 0. Kristine Horner (introduction) 1. Kasper Juffermans & Beatriz Lorente: Language and the black box of migration 2. Cecile Vigouroux: Skilling the migrant 3. Clare Mar-Molinero: Returning from El Norte: US-Mexican returnees' experience of reintegration Discussant: Leonie Cornips
Informal get-together/drinks at the Touch of Madness, Observatory

